On Singularity

The soul recalls its folly and may dare to triumph against its perpetuity.We are cloaked with expereince and coddled by the earth and its splendor. Volitive asceticism will reduce the pain of harm to Self, brother and collective form. God* is an equalizer a conduit to peace, agapic love, respect and righteous indignation.

”I am too stupid to be human, and I lack common sense.”
Proverbs 30:2-4, New King James Version

*God, Allah, and/or a higher power
